FARM BU. HEAD

Walter Kautz, Canal Point, was elected new president of the Everglades branch of the Farm Bureau Tuesday night at the annual meeting with retiring President Bob Apelgren presiding.

Director of the Everglades branch for the coming year is elected Jimmy Repper, Canal Point; Apelgren, Robert Simonson, Hilton Jones, Lloyd Hundley, Pahokee; Henry Elfers, Gordon Bowen, South Bay; J. K. Baker and C. W. McDonald, Belle Glade. Apelgren will serve as vice president for the coming year and the secretary and treasurer will be elected at the board of directors meeting Dec. 13.

Lowell Woodham, Sebring, field secretary for Florida Farm Bureau in the South Florida area, was the speaker at the growth and development of the farm bureau in the state of Florida. He was introduced by Apelgren. County Commissioner Paul Hardin also spoke briefly.

There were approximately 200 members and friends in attendance. A buffet dinner and rib supper preceded the meeting. Jones, Repper, Frank Wilson and Kautz served on the finance and arrangement committee.

TB Assn. Director
Tells Lions Work

PAHOKEE — The number of tuberculosis cases in Palm Beach County so far this year exceeds that of last year, when there were 95 new cases, Executive Secretary Ruth Shepherd, of the Palm Beach County Tuberculosis and Health Association, told the Lions Club's Tuesday noon luncheon meeting.

Mrs. Shepherd said that the increase in number is probably because the TB association is doing more to find the cases by such means as the mobile units supported chiefly by the annual Christmas Seal sale.

Eighty-one cents out of each dollar used to buy seals at Christmas stays in Palm Beach County for the fight against tuberculosis; 13c goes to the state association, and only six cents to the national association which furnishes many of the informational materials of the association, Mrs. Shepherd said.

Tuberculosis brings a death every 27 minutes in the U.S., the association official told the Lions.

President Clyde Canipe presided over the meeting at the Woman's Club. Curtis Chase was program chairman.

CAMERA REPORT: Carnival Time Was Very Big Time

WHEN THE TUMULT and the shouting died, the PTA Halloween carnivals in the Glades cities were over for another year. The best costumes, the kings and queens, the biggest booth net—all of the Oct. 31 superlatives were decided . . . and adults and kids who participated in the events could settle down peacefully.

In South Bay (at left) the photographer found C. E. Crichfield and daughter gazing at each other in either amusement or amusement.

In Belle Glade (at right) 18-month-old Teresa Nelson was a bewitching witch, and 14-month-old Eunice Enfinger was by far the littlesst angel.

In Pahokee (below), crowned king and queen were seventh graders Michael Wilson and Judy Pugh (rear) but cheerily among the runners-up were (foreground) Bette Rainier and Max Beverly, of the 11th grade.

CARNIVALS OVER FOR ANOTHER YEAR; ALL REPORT SUCCESS

School carnivals sponsored by the Glades Parent-Teacher Associations were pronounced highly successful this week, by each of the five communities, and PTA treasuries received a welcome boost.

HALF MILLION
MARK NEARED

BELLE GLADE — The increase in building in the last 10 months, over the period last year, is approaching the half-million dollar mark, Building Inspector W. L. Cunningham, sr., reported yesterday.

January through October, permits issued totalled $1,335,320, or $484,920 more than through October of last year, Cunningham said.

Total valuation of permits in October, ending Monday the 31st, was $128,451, with Southern Bell Telephone's $35,000 building and Henry Blum's $25,000 rooming house accounts for more than half the total, according to Cunningham's report. Permits for four new homes were issued, to J. G. Hopkins, two to N. B. Willis Properties and the fourth to B. T. Bernard. Ten repair permits were granted. A grand total of 35 permits was issued in October, Cunningham said.

BG C-C Coffee Is
Monday, 10-11 AM

BELLE GLADE — The first coffee hour of the fall for all members and friends of the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce will be held Monday morning, with Cong. Paul Rogers a special guest.

President Bob Lanier said the hour is 10 to 11, at Bell's Restaurant. Florida Power & Light Company will sponsor the first coffee-and-doughnuts session.

In addition to completing plans for the coffee, C-C directors at their Wednesday night meeting heard that the SR 717 directions pointing north, east, south, and west at the Choctaw intersection are because the north-south road is "primary" 717 and the east-west is "secondary". However, the State Road Department has agreed it might be a good idea to have the route number on only the major highway, and work will continue along those lines. SRD will put Belle Glade signs at the confused intersection, as well as SR 717 and SR 80, directors heard.

Mrs. Humphries Is Buried Monday

PAHOKEE — Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at First Baptist Church for Mrs. Monnie Humphries, 53, Pahokee resident since 1932, who died at her home Saturday morning.

Mrs. Humphries was found dead on the back porch of her residence. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Officiating at the funeral were J. H. Lyons and Rev. James Boyd. Mrs. Humphries was a member of the Church of Christ of Belle Glade, where Lynn formerly preached. Pallbearers were Thomas Elliott, Walter Byrd, Charles Humphries, Bob Mackey, J. P. Herring, and George C. Young. Burial was at Port Mayaca Cemetery. Wetherington Funeral Home of Pahokee was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Humphries leaves one daughter, Ona, of Pahokee; a stepmother, Miss Daisy Ford; and three brothers, James Ford, Savannah, Steve and Robert Ford, Mobile, and four sisters, Mrs. Lillie Pearl Broadus, Miss Ruby Ford, Miss Loyce Ford, and Mrs. Hazel Sessions, all of Mobile.

PHA RENT MKT.
SURVEY IS DUE

PAHOKEE — A rental market survey preliminary to further action on Pahokee's projected federal low-rent housing is expected here within two weeks.

James W. Vann, executive director of Pahokee Housing Authority, said the word from the Public Housing Administration office in Atlanta is that a field economist will be at work in this area early this month.

Indications were that prompt action of Pahokee City Council in reaffirming the need for federal housing brought equally prompt action from the government branch in Atlanta.

PHA Board Chairman J. F. Waddell has named Board Members Leonard Dobrow and Bob Apelgren to function as a committee to look over possible sites for the project, and bring back a report to the entire PHA board.

Experiment Sta.
Men Attend Meet

BELLE GLADE — Everglades Experiment Station staff members attending the annual meeting of the Florida State Horticultural Society in Clearwater this week were Drs. R. S. Cox, W. T. Forsee, V. L. Guzman, C. Ozaki, J. N. Simons, J. P. Winfree, and E. A. Wolf and D. S. Harrison.

They presented several papers involving research work conducted at the station, including "Progress and Problems in the Development of a Blight Resistant Celery For Florida," by Wolf, "Effects of Applied Nitrogen, Phosphate, and Potash on Yields and Growth of Peppers," by Ozaki, "Weed Control in Peppers in Organic Soils," by Guzman, and Wolf, and "Effect of Nozzle Type and Gallonage on Control of Northern Corn Leaf Blight," by Harrison and Cox. The latter was among guests appearing on a panel discussing "Antibiotics."

Dr. Jules P. Winfree recently joined the staff of the station as assistant soils chemist. He came to Belle Glade immediately upon completion of his graduate training at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N.J. He and his wife, Eleanor, and one-year old son, David, have moved into the Buck house on Main St.

Both Dr. and Mrs. Winfree are Floridians, born in Miami. Dr. Winfree completed his high school at Miami Edison and attended University of Florida where he received his B.S. degree in agriculture, majoring in soils and agricultural engineering. His graduate training at Rutgers was directed toward research in soils and plant nutrition. He will assume responsibility for the research on organic soils problems in this area.

Vero Invades Pahokee For Title
Battle; Rams Face Pompano At Home

Vero Beach, the only Suncoast team with a clear—and therefore No. 1—record this year, will take on Pahokee tonight at Lair Field, and Pompano, tied for fifth place in the Suncoast standings, will shoot for winless Belle Glade on the Rams' home field.

Tied in with the Vero-Pahokee game will be a spaghetti supper served from 5 to 8 p.m. at the school cafeteria, when Xi Alpha Mu chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority hopes to serve at least 400 people to help buy a dishwasher for Everglades Memorial Hospital.

The Blue Devils will be grimly fighting to topple Vero from top Suncoast ranking, and the Golden Rams are still thirsting for their first win.

Larry Harris and Leon Burkett teamed for the two Golden Ram touchdowns at Delray Beach Friday night, but Seacrest went wild in the third quarter to score all 20 of its winning points.

The first half was scoreless, with three fumbles by each team.

The Seahawks came back after halftime and slammed after three times to make their 20 points.

Instead of falling flat at that display, Belle Glade in the fourth quarter went aerial. Harris' pass to Burkett made six points from Seacrest's 34, then they repeated for the point. Harris went at the Seahawks line three times and made another TD on the final try.

PAHOKEE 19, LW 6

Lake Worth had small competition in its homecoming festivities last Friday, when the Blue Devils, mindful of their upset by Okeechobee the previous week, lined up for the Trojans.

The first quarter bringing no results, Web Pell's boys tromped on the starter in the second and Pat Turbeville took off for 33 yards and the six-point Sturdy Weldon Cardin kicked the point.

The Devils next dazzled the Trojans with a triple reverse and Chat Clark took off from the 44 for TD territory. Later in the second quarter, the Trojans got as far as the Pahokee 15, but Clark intercepted a pass and almost made the long grade again. Fumbling distinguished the third quarter, and nobody got much of anywhere.

In the fourth quarter, Lake Worth recovered and eight plays later, sent through the Devils for its only score. Turbeville did it again in the fourth quarter, as he arrived at the eight-yard line, and Cliff Stuart took off from there.

GAINEVILLE — Gene Herring, of Pahokee, was one of 14 Army Reserve Officer Training Corps members at University of Florida named as distinguished military students of the 1955 class.

New Head
Is Named
For EMH

PAHOKEE — R. L. Kiedzik is the new administrator of Everglades Memorial Hospital. The hospital board, through Albert Fremd, announced his appointment this week.

The new administrator will arrive on Nov. 21, and work with the present administrator, Jesse W. Reel in effecting a smooth transfer of operation prior to Reel's departure about Nov. 30, Fremd said.

Kiedzik is a retired naval lieutenant commander now living in Norfolk, Va. He has spent most of his Navy career in the field of hospital management with service during the war in the Pacific theatre, and his last assignment during 1951 to 1954 as administrative officer, U. S. Naval Hospital, Portsmouth, Va. He is a fellow of the American College of Hospital Administrators. His wife and son will join him there within a few weeks. Another son, now attending college, plans to visit with his parents during the Christmas holidays.

The board processed some 70 applications for the position arriving at its decision and conducted personal interviews with six of the applicants, according to Fremd. Reel resigned on Sept. 12 to accept a position as administrator of the local hospital at Franklin, Va.

SOME SUGAR IS TO GO, ANYHOW

WASHINGTON — Senators Spessard Holland, George Smathers and Congressman Paul Rogers have been advised that the Commodities Credit Corporation of the U. S. Department of Agriculture will purchase 100,000 tons of sugar in the current season, before the end of 1955.

The action is being taken to relieve the domestic sugar shortage, which is especially burdensome in the mainland cane states of Louisiana and Florida and some of the domestic beet areas.

It is in keeping with the objectives of a provision of HR 7030 which was passed by the House of Representatives during the first session of the 84th Congress, and of Senate Resolution 147 which was co-sponsored by Senators Holland and Smathers, and approved by the Senate during the same session.

It is expected that 71,500 tons of sugar will be purchased under the program, and that of this amount approximately 18,000 tons will be purchased from the mainland cane states and the balance will be purchased from the domestic beet areas. The Department of Agriculture further stated that the purchase will be made under offers to be announced at a later date.

The sugar will be utilized to meet requirements under the foreign mutual security programs of the U. S. government, according to the department.

CITIZENSHIP GETS PATROL DUTIES

CANAL POINT — Four boys and four girls, chosen for citizenship and scholastic standing (B average), have been named to serve on the patrol point schools of the grade, of which Mrs. Gladys Harrington and George Witherington, teachers, are sponsors, according to Principal Carl Crawford.

The boys' squad consists of Billy Maxson, captain; Bobby Flowers, Jimmy Jackson and James Suggs. The girl patrol members are Ann Jackson, Ida Mae Smith, Betty Johnson and Amy Johnson.

Other students of grades five through eight will probably be added to the patrol point schools of the school as further defined, Crawford said.

NEW YEAR BOOK: Annually, the Agriculture department issues a full-size "yearbook" on some subject of interest to farmers. This year's edition is just off the press, and is entitled "Water." In this case the book contains a great amount of information about the country's water situation that will be of interest to industry and city people as well as conservationists, gardeners and sportsmen—and farmers. It contains 95 chapters which were written by 149 specialists with a few maps and charts thrown in for good measure.

The book has 752 pages and a note in the front of it says it sells for $2. Do you want one? Don't buy it! Few people ever buy a yearbook. Just write your Congressman. Each member is allowed 400 copies for free distribution. They are usually given out on a first come, first serve basis. So get your order in right away. The rush has already begun, and you may be too late if you don't hurry.

RESERVE ACT OF 1955: While you are writing to your Congressman, you might as well ask for a copy of the "Fact Sheet" put out by the army about the Reserve Act of 1955. It answers most of the questions which have been asked about the new Army reserve plan.

BIG CHANGE: The empty chair left in Senator Holland's office when Ralph Davis returned to Tallahassee has now been filled. Holland made a double play. He rewarded hard working Jimmie Golden, his executive secretary, by promoting him to administrative assistant; and brought in Merrill Winslett to be executive secretary. Golden will continue to have charge of the Senator's legislative work, since he is an attorney in his own right. Winslett will take over most of the administrative work done by Davis. Winslett's move came as a surprise, since he has been administrative assistant to Congressman Bob Sikes since 1942 and is considered to be the "Dean" of the Florida delegation.

Before coming to Washington, Winslett worked on the Jackson County Floridian in Marianna. For six years he taught printing and journalism at the Florida Industrial School for Boys. Bob Sikes had been in Congress for only a year when he asked Winslett to come to Washington and manage his office.

Golden first came to Washington in 1949 as administrative assistant to Congressman Syd Herlong. Later, he worked for the Department of Defense as an attorney, and in 1953 returned to Capitol Hill as Senator Holland's executive secretary in charge of legislative matters. It looks like Senator Holland has filled the gap ably—by putting two extremely capable, long-time friends, in his two key positions.

Memo From The Editor:

When as adept a master of the American language as Robert Wallace and as agile an authority on personal injury law as Melvin M. Belli get together, the result is refreshing. "Life and Limb" is the title of Wallace's book on the fabulous career of Melvin M. Belli, ace personal-injury trial lawyer, as the jacket says. Doubleday & Company, Inc. is the publisher.

Author Wallace points out that Melvin M. Belli, who will answer cheerfully to the latter. This is just as well, because the reader is almost bound to consider him "belly" especially after Wallace's account of the California legal genius' knowledge of medicine and surgery. The general public, bogged down in non-fiction about (a) his mind, (b) his heart, (c) his dead heroes. In just about that order, will find "Life and Limb" a delightful change.

Fortunately, Wallace is a master of taking the complex and translating it simply—an aptitude which stands him in good stead as a writer for Life Magazine. So when he delves into Melvin M. Belli and his lawyering, confusing legal phraseology and the deceptively dull wording of lawsuits become understandable.

For instance, in a chapter headed "A Handful of Torts," Wallace writes "The nub of the law of torts is simple enough: you hurt somebody, he sues you." And he takes it from there. "You can cause a tort by striking someone with very nearly anything—a neutron, a Ford or the Queen Elizabeth, or by arranging matters negligently—perhaps by leaving a marble on a stair landing—so that someone injures himself."

Thus it is that Belli has made a name for himself in the field of law, specializing in damage suits. He obtained one of the highest awards for loss of a Everytime I take a bath, there's trouble. Incarcerated as I was in Dr. Kiddie's Kennel for Kleaning, Kutting, and Karing for Kankines, I didn't know what went on at our house Monday. Now—I almost wish I had stayed there.

It was Tuesday night that, reeking with dog-dip, my ears newly de-ticked, I bounced into the office with the bosses. The lights were on in the shop, so we didn't turn the switch in the front office. Dandy—one boss fell over the telephone cord and the other, saying "Watch where you're going," hit a Coleman stove, a large jar of mustard, and a 5-gallon coffee urn before he settled.

It is simply that if Halloween carnivals keep happening, I may have to take over here someday. The bosses were hamburger-makers on Monday night, helping feed the hordes for the benefit of the good ole PTA.

Considering how I am permanently starved, it was pretty sadistic of them to go off feeding people.

But it was even worse, as I say, to have them bring the remnants back to the shop. Not a smidgen of hamburger, you understand, but an awful lot of accessories. Only — who eats mustard straight?

All this used stuff is lying around in the front office, and it may never get put away unless a paying customer falls over it.

The confusion upsets me, for when I have to walk an extra foot to get around a fold-up table, creative genius flies out the window. And the smell of unwashed hamburger dishes is driving me mad.

Anybody know how to get coffee grounds out of the car?

Miss Shirley Ann Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Watson, Pahokee, became the bride of Lt. Claude Leland Shirley, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Leland Shirley, sr., Pahokee, at an impressive candlelight ceremony Saturday at 4 p.m. at Pahokee First Baptist Church.

Rev. Carl A. Moeborg, pastor of Little River Baptist Church, a former pastor of the local church, officiated at the double ring ceremony. The altar was banked with palms and decorated with four white baskets of yellow gladioli and four seven-branched candelabra holding white tapers. The pews reserved for the families were marked with white satin bows.

Miss Lynn Shirley, cousin of the bridegroom, was pianist and played a program of pre-nuptial music and the traditional wedding marches. Mrs. Hugh Branch was soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white tulle and rose point lace over white satin. The long fitted torso was designed with a portrait neckline, short sleeves, and a bouffant skirt. She wore lace mitts and a finger tip veil of French silk illusion attached to a half hat of Chantilly lace beaded with a leaf motif. Her bouquet was of white phyllois orchids centered with three white alba orchids from which fell white satin streamers.

Miss Barbara Moeborg of Miami, attended the bride as maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Peggy Rowe, Winter Haven, Miss Wynell Gillis and Mrs.

ruby red alba roses, and a white orchid corsage. Mrs. Shirley, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gown of medium blue lace and tulle, with black accessories. Her corsage was white phyllois orchids.

A reception followed the wedding, at the Woman's Club building with the bride's parents as hosts. Miss Clara Stevenson of New Orleans presided at the bride's book. Assisting at the refreshment table were Mrs. T. W. Knight, Mrs. David Unwin, and Miss Patsy Batchelor.

Guests from out-of-town included Mr. and Mrs. James Clark, Oliver, Ga., Mrs. T. B. Burks, Jackson, Ga., Mrs. W. J. Burks, Jr., Griffin, Ga., Charles Holm, Oliver, Ga., Mrs. Craig Marsh, Griffin, Ga., Mrs. William Shirley, and daughter Claudia, Fort Walton.

Lt. and Mrs. Shirley left immediately following the reception for a wedding trip on the East Coast and upon their return Tuesday visited a few days with their families prior to continuing their honeymoon in Western states. They will make their home in Ardmore, Okla., where he has been stationed for the past year at Ardmore Air Force Base.

Miss Shirley Ann Watson and Lt. Claude Leland Shirley, Jr. were honored with several parties prior to their marriage Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Leland Shirley, sr. were hosts at their home Thursday night at a steak fry. Mrs. Roscelle Wilson and Mrs. J. C. Schoepel were co-hostesses at Mrs. Wilson's home Friday, entertaining with a bridesmaids' luncheon honoring Miss Watson. Attending were Mrs. Charles Holm, Miss Peggy Rowe, Miss Clara Stevenson, Miss Wynell Gillis and Mrs. Charles Sear. Mr. and Mrs. T. W. ### Last Word in Farm Machinery

Curly Lawson was first in this area to use one of those roadside vending machines. He's sold milk and eggs in one about a year now, and recommends them highly—but with reservations.

"Milk's the latest model," says Curly. "Built-in refrigeration unit—beater—an automatic sign turner-on for night. Takes any combination of coins."

"However," he warned, "those machines aren't cheap to buy... or operate. They run about $3500. If you're not on the main highway like I am—where lots of city people pass—you'd better stick to the old methods."

From where I sit, you have to admire Curly for his pioneering spirit. Of course, there's also plenty to be said for those who tend to stick to the old proven methods. People's ideas differ on the subject—on any subject. Like you may always drink butter milk with your meals... while a glass of beer's the "automatic" choice with me.

'Air-View' Story Isn't For BG C-C

BELLE GLADE — The magazine Reader's Digest made an error this week, and will be hearing about it fast as airmail can travel. The magazine sent a reprint of an October issue article entitled "The Air View of Southern Change" to the Chamber of Commerce here.

When Secretary Edwin A. Young perceived the article, he discovered that the "air view" had developed journalistic astigmatism, for not the first word did the article say about Florida. Mrs. Young took typewriter in hand to point out to Digest that with Florida the second fastest growing state in the Union, Palm Beach County in the top few counties of enormous growth, and Belle Glade growing 400% faster than the county, she thought Digest should pay some attention to Florida.

She added that there was a flood control plan of rather large proportion in South Florida that would beat the draglines off any similar project mentioned in Digest's "air view" of other southern states.

CATTLEMEN TO MEET NOV. 8-10

PANAMA CITY — Some 300 cattlemen from 46 Florida counties are expected to gather here Nov. 8-10 when the Florida Cattleman's Association holds its 20th annual convention.

That's the word from A. G. Cayson of Blountstown, president of the West Florida Cattleman's Association, comprising five counties along the Apalachicola River, and Ned Brock of Vernon, who heads the Washington County Cattleman's Association. The two groups are official "hosts" for the event.

It will be the first time in 15 years that FCA has met west of the Apalachicola River — and local cattlemen are expecting a bumper crowd to attend the session.

"West Florida has been making a lot of progress, and most of the cattlemen from southern Florida have seen it," Cayson pointed out. "We believe there'll be a large crowd show up for this reason, as well as to take care of association business, despite the distance involved for many of them."

Representative Bob Sikes of Crestview is to be one of the main speakers for the convention, and others are Manager F. O. Wilson of the National Live Stock Producers' Association at Chicago, and Dr. Frank Goodwin, professor of marketing at the University of Florida.

In addition, election of officers will be on the schedule, and selection of an "old-timer" to receive the honorary directorship awarded each year by FCA.

Directors meet at 3 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 8, to start off convention sessions, with business sessions on Wednesday and Thursday mornings scheduled at 9 a.m. Social events are scheduled Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, and tours of local attractions will take place Wednesday afternoon.
